Hope Fades For Rescue of Trapped Miners

Search Crews Reach
Two Refuge Areas,
Find Them Empty

LOGAN, W.Va. (AP) — Hope ebbed today for rescue of 18 trapped coal miners as rescue teams probed the areas where they might have taken refuge and found no one.

One area was found empty Monday night and another this morning. There were no signs of the men at the entrance to the third and final refuge where the men, trapped since last Tuesday, may have gone.

"If they're up toward the slope, they're dead," said Paul Lingo, deputy state mining director. Basic mine safety instructions call for trapped men to use chalk or other means to leave signs for rescuers.

18 Cut Off Tuesday

The 18 were cut off about 8 a. m. last Tuesday when a small rock slide snapped an electric cable that ignited some timbers. The timbers in turn started a smoldering fire in the coal.

Communication was maintained with the miners for about four hours until that line, too, was broken, apparently burned through by the fire.

There are three honeycombed refuge areas, or "rooms," off the main passageway where the men might have barricaded themselves from the deadly fumes and smoke from the fire.

An alternative would have been to try to make it through the main passageway to an old mine entrance on the other side of the mountain. This way has been blocked for some time, and safety officials consider it the worst choice the men could have made.

Told To Check Barricade

The rescue team sent out to reach the third area—100 feet deeper in the mine—was told to check the barricade at its entrance for signs of the men but not to break any seal which might be protecting the trapped men from deadly fumes.

Hope was running high Monday when one crew finally reached the goal workers had been striving toward for more than six days—an underground room where the men might have taken refuge.

Room Found Empty

No one was there. It was empty except for the objects here and there.

One week ago today the 18 were trapped at work as the rocky roof of their tunnel tumbled down, igniting a stubborn fire which is still smoldering. Rescuers struck out for a larger room 1,200 feet deeper into the mine. There was no official word on how long it might take to get there.

Flower Pots For Street Light Posts Ordered by Kiwanis

The Kiwanis Club is expected to have decorative flower baskets installed in the downtown area before Memorial Day.

Kiwanis was given permission by City Council to hang the baskets from downtown lamp posts after the club agreed to certain terms which would relieve the city of liability in the event of accident because of the installation.

Ralph Martin, a representative of the Kiwanis Club, said the brackets and flower holders have been ordered. He said the club expects to erect about 70 of the baskets.

The baskets will hang on each side of downtown lamp posts parallel to the street. Maintenance and watering programs still must be worked out, Mr. Martin said.

May Ballot on Bill Thursday

House Acts on Rights Voting Referee Plan

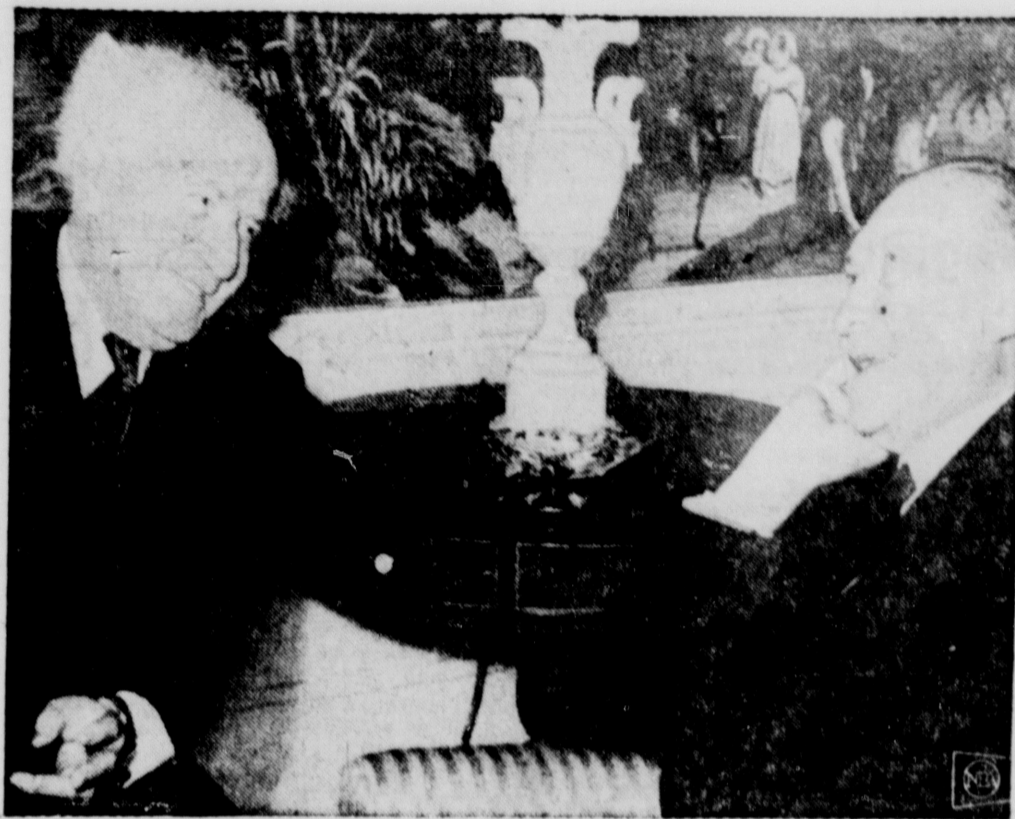

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights advocates drove today for House approval of a voting referee plan to resolve the long wrangle over legislation against racial discrimination at the polls.

There were even some "anti-carpetbag" sweeteners in it for the Southerners, who were still fighting it vigorously. Members outside the South generally were supporting the revised proposal.

The major test vote was expected late today, paving the way for a final House vote on the bill about Thursday.

The House GOP leader, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, told newsmen he thinks the House

U. S. Urges Space Arms Race Check

HISTORIC MEETING — Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion, left, confers with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, right, in an historic New York meeting aimed at erasing the hate that Hitler planted between their peoples. Ben-Gurion said the meeting confirmed his judgement that "the Germany of today is not the Germany of Yesterday." Said Adenauer: "I am convinced that German co-operation with and support for Israel will continue to bear fruit in the future."

Negro Sitdown Acts Diminish Two Cities Report New Racial Violence

By The Associated Press
Negro sitdown demonstrations appeared to be diminishing in the South today in the face of mass convictions and firm police action but new racial violence was reported in two cities.

Negro students at Florida A&M University called off their sitdowns protesting segregated eating facilities at Tallahassee, Montgomery, Ala., was quiet. There was one small demonstration in South Carolina.

Courts in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina handed down a series of convictions Monday in connection with sitdown troubles. Both Negroes and white persons were involved.

At Charleston, S. C., Grady McMakin, 24, a white service station attendant, told police six Negro youths carved crude "KKK" initials in his back, beat him up and robbed him of $40.

In New Orleans, Michael Tortorich, 17, told police a Negro teenager stabbed him in the back Sunday night as he waited for a bus. Tortorich's condition was described as fair.

The decision to halt demonstrations at Tallahassee was announced by Ira C. Robinson, president of the Student Government Assn. at Florida A&M University. He said agreement was reached after Saturday's riot in downtown Tallahassee and the turning back of a Negro march by tear gas.

At Petersburg, Va., hundreds of Negroes sang hymns outside the courthouse while 11 members of their race were convicted of trespassing at the city's public library March 7. All were released on bond.

Two Negro college students were convicted of trespassing in Raleigh, N.C. They were among 43 students arrested during February demonstrations.

Police Hunt Three Mail Thieves

Two Post Office Inspectors Slain

CHICAGO (AP)—The FBI and police hunted today for three mail thieves who shot and killed two post office inspectors in their car minutes after they trapped the robbers.

A half-dozen shots were fired into the bodies of the two inspectors by the three robbers, all Negroes.

Adenauer Asks Ike to Resist Concessions

WASHINGTON (AP) — German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer made his personal plea to President Eisenhower today to resist concessions on Berlin at the summit meeting in Paris in May.

He arrived at the White House at 10:27 a. m. and was quickly ushered into the presidential offices.

The visiting West German chancellor had an extended date at the White House, lasting from mid-morning through lunch, then appointments with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other State Department officials in the afternoon.

Adenauer was reported ready to advise Eisenhower to avoid the Berlin issue at the summit and place priority instead on progress toward disarmament.

Both Germany-Berlin and disarmament are on the agenda for Eisenhower's mid-May summit talks in Paris with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the British and French chiefs.

Adenauer was known to feel that no good can come from a temporary deal on West Berlin, the Red-encircled city from which Khrushchev wants all Allied troops withdrawn.

Eisenhower and Herter in turn were reported prepared to promise not to sell out the West Berliners. But U.S. officials said they also intended to retain freedom to offer some concessions if Khrushchev gives guarantees improving the Allies' shaky hold on the city.

Adenauer, on a two-week tour of the United States, arrived Monday night for his 2½-day stop in the capital.

RUNAWAY BOY HELD

A 14-year-old boy who ran away from his home in Auburn, Ind., gave himself up to Salem police yesterday.

While police were investigating an abandoned car on E. Second St., the boy walked into the local station and admitted that he had stolen the car. He is being held for juvenile authorities.

Control Problem Is Stressed by Western Bloc

Allies Submit 3-Stage
Plan to Communists
On Eve of Confab

BULLETIN

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev told the 10-nation Geneva Conference on disarmament in a message today that the day when the world will live without arms or war "is not far off."

Moscow radio quoted Khrushchev's message as stating that Soviet representatives at the conference had been instructed "to assist in every way its fruitful work and to strive for the early drafting of an agreement on total and universal disarmament."

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Frederick M. Eaton today told the opening session of the 10-nation disarmament conference that it "must take immediate action to prevent the extension of the arms race into outer space." This problem has arisen since the collapse of the last previous negotiations on disarmament in London in 1957.

Subject To Controls
Eaton stressed that arrangements to cut back forces and weapons must be subject to fool-proof controls. He added that "the initial steps must not be overly ambitious."

Both Eaton and British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore stressed that the control problem would need to be carefully worked out. The American delegation leader said:

"It has been said that there must be no inspection without commensurate disarmament. Conversely, the security of the world requires that there be no disarmament without commensurate inspection. We must patiently find our way through this difficulty."

Power To Enforce Disarmament
The west's plan for ending the arms race calls for creation of an international disarmament organization with ultimate power to enforce disarmament. The rival Eastern plan is based on Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's call for total disarmament within four years. He first unveiled it in a speech to the U.N. General Assembly last Sept. 18.

The conference likely will set up several study groups and committees of experts which may deliberate for months or even years. U.S. negotiators were told to expect to stay in Geneva at least a year. But a Soviet commentator in Moscow called for speedy action.

Five On Each Side
For the first time in more than a decade of arms talks, East and West were meeting on an equal numerical basis. On the Western side were the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada. Representing the Communist bloc were the Soviet Union, Poland, Romania, Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria.

Previous disarmament talks were carried on mostly by the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union.

The Western plan was submitted to the Communists informally Monday night. Like previous Western proposals, it called for tightly controlled, step-by-step disarmament. Its chief new features were the international organization which ultimately would have vast powers, an earlier start toward nuclear disarmament, and emphasis on the use of outer space for peaceful purposes only.

The West's plan calls for three general stages.

First it would set up an inter-

School Board Must Borrow for 3rd Time; $105,000 Needed

The Board of Education of Salem City School District, at its meeting Monday night in the Junior High School building, authorized Wallace King, clerk-treasurer, to borrow up to $105,000 to meet the payroll and bills due before the April meeting.

The action was necessitated by the county auditor's failure to turn over to the board its payment of tax money due in March, board members explained.

It marks the third time since December that the board has been forced to borrow money from the banks at interest, in order to meet current expenses.

In December the board borrowed $40,000, followed by $235,000 in January and now $105,000 for a collective total of $380,000.

State Aid May Be Cut

D. M. Fadely, business manager, discussed the possible reduction in state aid to the Salem School District as the real estate property is revaluated and the district's taxable worth goes up.

Reporting on his conference last week with Kenneth Bell, county auditor, Mr. Fadely said that because of the 12½ percent charge-off against the amount from the state foundation program, the expected net loss to Salem schools will be $105,000. The only solution is some change in the State Foundation's program to lessen the millage charge-off, Mr. Fadely pointed out.

The board approved Superintendent Paul Smith's recommendation for the employment of extra help, including: Mrs. Isabelle Stratton to assist in the high school library three days a week, starting March 21, for the balance of the school year, at the substitute pay of $15 a day.

Mrs. Dudley Ashead to help organize the elementary school libraries at Reilly and Fourth Street Schools, five hours each week at each of the two schools.

Town Acts on Sewer Project

Washingtonville
Job to Start May 1

WASHINGTONVILLE—A special resolution of necessity for the completion of sewers was unanimously approved by Village Council at a meeting Monday night.

Walter Rupert, a local contractor, submitted the lowest bid of $80,400 for the labor on the sewer project, with the village purchasing the materials. Council had rejected several previous bids submitted for the project.

The work, to be completed in 180 working days, must be started by May 1, in order to obtain a $16,000 federal aid grant.

Over 100 persons attended a special citizens meeting Friday night at which time the group voted 60 for and 28 against completing the project. Each property owner will be assessed $225 toward the completion of the sewers. Notification of this assessment must be made to each property owner.

If the group had voted against completion, a fee of $300 would have been imposed for the work already done.

The entire project is to cost an estimated $196,000. Mortgage revenue bonds in the amount of $97,000 are to be purchased by the government.

An increase in water rates from $7.50 to $10 per quarter is being considered as a means of increasing revenue.

Power Failure Chills Beaver School Rooms

Classrooms at Beaver Local School were chilly this morning because of a power failure during the night.

A circuit a half-mile east of Lisbon went off shortly after midnight, the Ohio Edison Co. reported. The break affected the area near Lisbon and south to Beaver School. The power failure knocked out the heat controls at the school.

Turned Her Into Human Torch

Ravenna Woman Tells Of Mate's Murder Try

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—A burn-scarred woman of 28, out of the hospital for the first time in eight months, watches from a wheelchair at the trial of her husband, accused of turning her into a human torch.

Mrs. Helen Khan testified for the prosecution when the trial opened Monday with a jury of six men and six women. She rolled up her hospital gown sleeves and opened the neck of her blouse to show some of the burn scars which cover 60 per cent of her body.

She described how on last July 25 at her home a mile south of Kent she ran from a backyard chicken coop, her clothing aflame, to the basement and used wet clothing in the laundry to put out the fire. She sobbed as she related how her four-year-old son, Feroun, was screaming, "Mommy, Mommy," when he saw her alive.

Isaac Mohammed Khan, 32, chemist and a native of the Fiji Islands, was arrested by the FBI in Chicago last November, and it was believed Feroun may be with Khan's relatives in that city.

If convicted on the assault with intent to kill charge, Khan is liable to a 1 to 15-year prison sentence. He pleaded innocent Nov. 9 and has been free on $10,000 bail.

3 Held on Charge Of Coercing Witness

BARBERTON, Ohio (AP) — Three persons were arrested today by Barberton police and charged with attempting to "intimidate and coerce a witness" before the grand jury.

They are Mrs. Frank Skraba, whose husband was wounded in a gun battle in Mogadore 11 days ago, following a burglary; and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Thoenen. The women were released on $2,000 bond and Thoenen on $1,000 bond. Thoenen, 34, already is under $10,000 bond on a charge of harboring a felon, Skraba. The latter, wounded twice in the right shoulder during the gun battle, is hospitalized in Detroit following his capture by the FBI.

Jack Gascoyne, a Barberton detective sergeant, says Mrs. Skraba and the Thoenens are accused of attempting to influence the testimony of a 16-year-old boy before the grand jury, which is studying charges against Skraba.

Hoffa Rips Critics At Teamster Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa hurled criticism at most of his adversaries Monday night at a Madison Square Garden rally.

An estimated 3,000 cheering Teamsters and members of their families half-filled the garden.

The Teamsters president had angry words for recent labor legislation, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), his brother, "little Bobby Kennedy," AFL-CIO President George Meany, Auto Workers President Walter Reuther, the press, radio, and television.

Sen. Kennedy, who helped write the new labor law, was a member of the Senate committee which investigated union and management racketeers. His brother, Robert F. Kennedy, was chief counsel of the committee.

His audience enthusiastically whistled and cheered as Hoffa turned to reporters covering the rally and said: "There is no use talking to reporters. Distortion is what you can expect from the press. Editors are controlled by big business."

Leetonia Club to Hear Talks

LEETONIA — Two speakers will be heard by the Leetonia-Washingtonville Kiwanis Club at its meeting tonight at the Methodist church in Washingtonville.

They are Probate Judge Louis Tobin of East Liverpool and Walter Sweeney of Salem, manager of the Sixth Sales tax district.

Members of other organizations in the community are invited to hear Mr. Sweeney's talk.

A special program is being planned for the March 29 meeting. All clubs in the division have been invited to attend. Dr. Charles Higgins of the Cleveland Clinic Hospital will be the guest speaker.

RUTH BIBLE CLASS of the Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Helen Archer of Somer St. Thursday evening at 8, with Mrs. Beatrice Hisey and Mrs. Nellie Grove as associate hostesses. Mrs. Verda Walters will have charge of the devotions.

Mr. and Mrs. George Weikart had as Sunday dinner guests William Weikart of Washingtonville, Mr. and Mrs. Hyland Leyman of Cleveland, Carl Clifton and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar CConn of Lisbon. The dinner was in honor of Mrs. Conn's birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. William Townsend left last week for two weeks vacation in Florida.

SUES IN AUTO MISHAP

LISBON — A suit for $20,000 for personal injuries stemming from an auto accident in East Liverpool was filed in Common Pleas Court Monday by Freda Mance of Maple Heights.

Frank Gardner of East Liverpool was named defendant.

Mrs. Mance claims that on March 13, 1958 the defendant's auto struck her car from the rear, causing her to suffer severe neck injuries.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Don't Abuse 'Great American Stomach'

In nearly every group of diners, there is usually at least one bellyacher. And usually, with little or no encouragement, the bellyacher will furnish intimate details of his or her complaints against the offending stomach.

Almost without exception, the bill of particulars will include such terms as dyspepsia, heartburn, water brash, acidity, indigestion, biliousness, weak stomach, sour stomach, bum stomach and the like.

IT IS QUITE useless to interrupt the recitation with any statements of facts. Such as that peptic digestion is rarely disturbed until the stomach wall has been almost wholly destroyed.

That the heart never "burns." That water brash is a meaningless expression. That acidity is the normal state of the normal stomach.

That gastric digestion is not affected unless the organ is the site of advanced destructive disease. That bile function proceeds satisfactorily provided that 10 to 15 percent of liver cells remain operative.

Before you contribute to the hundreds of millions of dollars that are spent—and mostly wasted—on measures to relieve the "great American stomach," I suggest you look into the possibility that maybe the culprit is the owner and operator of your stomach.

Here, for example, are some of the ways a perfectly good stomach can be abused by its thoughtless possessor:

1. Gulp down bulky, sticky or coarse food before it's been properly chewed by your teeth and softened by saliva.

2. Quickly swallow hot or iced foods or drinks if they cause too much discomfort to hold in your mouth.

3. Load your stomach with as much food as you can possibly get your hands on at each meal on the theory that the chuck wagon may never call again.

4. Make liberal use of salt, pepper and condiments on all foods before bothering to taste them. That way you'll never know if they're of good or poor quality and/or if they've been properly prepared.

5. Eat on the fly. You can't make up time but you can always buy stomach "remedies."

6. If it's a business meal, gobble what's put before you without giving the food thought or consideration. Customers are sometimes hard to get but there are plenty of all-night eateries.

7. If it's a home meal, there's no better time to settle family disputes. Everybody's together and the TV set's been turned off. So let's have a family row.

Next, I'll have some suggestions for a be-kind-to-your stomach campaign.

Loopholes In Castro's Panacea

It is easy to see why 6,000 members of the Confederation of Cuban Workers cheered Premier Fidel Castro when he laid before them his plan for extracting 4 per cent of their wages to finance part of his industrial expansion program.

He promised them a 7 per cent return on their "investment" as soon as it starts paying off, endowing the idea with the simple attraction of a workingman's stake in his country's future and the hope he will reap rich rewards are long.

But as with all panaceas, Castro's design is too simple. There are loopholes in it that may eventually turn the cheers to cries of disappointment, if not anguish.

Basic fallacy is that the present action is necessary because private capital has not done the job in the past. If that is so, the blame does not lie with private capital's unwillingness to seek a profit where the potential exists. It must lie in a situation which made the risk too great or the potential profit too small to be attractive.

THERE IS SOMETHING phony, for instance, about Castro's charging private capital with unwillingness to help Cuba just after he has expropriated huge chunks of the investment made by United States capitalists in Cuba's oil and sugar fields.

And therein lies another danger signal for the workingmen who are being told to invest hard-earned wages in Castro's panacea.

The U.S. capitalists involved have not criticized the Cuban government for taking over their land in the interests of agrarian reform. They knew it was coming and have expressed sympathy with the philosophy.

WHAT GRIEVES THEM is that Castro and his lieutenants have not come close to offering them adequate compensation for their investment. They will be lucky to come out of the deal with a quarter of what they put in.

Could this be what is in store for the Cuban workingman? Predictions would be hazardous, but the simple fact remains that if the deal were attractive enough, workers would not have to be coerced into forking over an "investment."

Workingmen in the United States have invested a huge total of capital in the future of their country's economy on a free enterprise, rather than a government-dictated, basis. The incentive is there and the eagerness of millions of ordinary working people to take advantage of it has created the most amazing stock market phenomenon of the last decade.

Fidel Castro's plan sounds nice, but it just does not coincide with the facts of economic life.

Air Force Manual Probe Sets Off Controversies

Are the American people getting a fair report on what the Air Force Reserve training manual said about the "people's right to know" and about Communist activity in the churches?

Many members of Congress think not. The best way perhaps to give the viewpoint of those members of Congress is to present some of the testimony, originally heard in executive session, when the Air Force secretary, Dudley C. Sharp, testified. This now has been released for publication.

First of all, it's necessary to read in full text the paragraphs in the Air Force manual dealing with the "right to know" controversy. Here they are:

"When a newspaper prints some so-called secret data, it merely means the government no longer considers that particular data secret—it does not mean we have no secrets left. Or it could mean that ever newsmen took pieces of unclassified information which they were authorized to have, put them together and came up with the right answer.

"However, because such accounts may have given the correct information does not mean that the information is no longer classified. Newspapers are not official—and until the government declassifies security information, it remains classified.

"Another rather foolish remark often heard is that Americans have a right to know what's going on. Most people realize the foolishness of such a suggestion. If a football team should start telling the other side the plays it planned to use, their opponents would sweep them off the field. It's the same in war—hot or cold; if we tell our secrets, we are likely to be beaten, and beaten badly."

IMMEDIATELY after this quotation is printed in the testimony, there occurs this exchange between Richard Arends, staff director of the House Committee on Un-American Activities and the secretary of the Air Force, Mr. Sharp:

"Mr. Arends: Mr. Secretary, the whole import of that language is that the military is entitled to protect secrets, is it not?" "Secretary Sharp: Yes, I would think so; yes, sir."

"Mr. Arends: It is not intended, as you read the two paragraphs in entire context, to convey the impression that the American people as such are not entitled to know in general what is going on; isn't that correct?"

"Secretary Sharp: That certainly is correct; yes, sir."

At another point in the same executive session, Mr. Arends took up the section dealing with Communist infiltration in the churches and read again from the manual which declared that the Communist party in this country had instructed many of its members to infiltrate the churches.

THE MANUAL had made this comment:

"Again, to stop Communists we must be careful not to attack the majority of faithful ministers and church-goers. We must merely search out those who back Moscow right down the line."

Mr. Arends said to the committee:

"In view of the secretary's repudiation of the information conveyed respecting The National Council of Churches of Christ in America, the chairman, — Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.)—issued a statement to the effect that the leadership of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America had hundreds or at least over one hundred, affiliations with Communist fronts and causes. Since then we have made careful, but yet incomplete checks and it is a complete understatement.

"Thus far of the leadership of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, we have found over 100 persons in leadership capacity with either Communist front records or records of service to Communist causes. "The aggregate affiliations of the leadership, instead of being in the hundreds as the chairman first indicated, is now, according to our latest count, into the thousands, and we have yet to complete our check, which would certainly suggest, on the basis of the authoritative sources of this committee, that the statement that there is infiltration of fellow travelers in churches and educational institutions is a complete understatement."

Rep. Donald L. Jackson, (R-Calif.), a member of the same committee, charged that some newspapers last Friday twisted the words of Cardinal Spellman of New York into a "defense" of those who had criticized the Air Force manual.

THE CARDINAL in his statement referring to Protestant chaplains with whom he was associated in wartime, said he would "explore it if any unfair deductions from general accusations were interpreted to reflect in any way on their loyalty to our country or on the loyalty of the general body of ministers whom they represent."

Rep. Jackson called Cardinal Spellman's attention to the misinterpretation of his statement as a defense of those who had criticized the Air Force manual. He received from Cardinal Spellman a telegram in reply which said: "I cannot understand how some of the press distorted my statement. I respect the fact that Congressmen Walter, you and other members of your committee have rendered outstanding service in exposing Communist activities."

It is indeed on the whole an unfortunate controversy and maybe the clergymen who aired it publicly in the first place would have been better advised if they had written privately to the Defense Department and called attention to ambiguous paragraphs or to those which might better have been omitted.

Boss Buttering

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Boss buttering is a fine art in America. But it is amazing how few people are really expert at it.

"I don't want to be surrounded by yes men," a boss may say. "I need someone around here who can tell me when I am wrong."

But he doesn't really mean it. His wife will tell him when he is wrong. So will the chairman of the board.

What he really needs is someone who will build up his confidence by making him feel right—whether what he has done is right or wrong.

This takes a skilled "yes man," and it is surprising how few there are around.

If you're going to butter the boss at all, butter him all over.

Being a really successful yes man is no job for a shirker. It's hard work. The pay is good, but the hours are long.

Here are a dozen tested remarks found in the vocabulary of almost every successful yes man:

1. "Golf was made for you, J.B. If it weren't for that pebble in front of your tee, you'd have had a hole in one for sure."

2. "You're absolutely right, J.B. You had to take the bit in your teeth on that one."

3. "I'm not trying to flatter you, chief, but I'll bet there aren't five men in U.S. industry who could have come up with a solution like that."

4. "So what if we did drop half a million, J.B.? Even Babe Ruth never knocked them all over the fence."

5. "No, J.B., it's just your imagination. I can't see it's getting any thinner on top."

6. "Some days, J.B., it just doesn't pay to be nice to people. You gave him a $2.50 raise. What did he expect—the U.S. mint?"

7. "That last memo of yours on how the office is wasting too many paper clips was a model of executive tact, chief. It needed to be said, and no one else could have said it as well."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

"Have Polygraph — Will Travel." I've discovered in my own travels that that's what thousands of management executives and labor leaders are being told by advance men for a bouncy new industry—the lie detection business.

There's always been a polygraph—an electronic truth seeking gadget. But suddenly it has burst into the labor field.

Hundreds of times in the past month, this column's survey shows, the truth machine has been used to determine whether employees have stolen secret documents or money, whether they have dipped into inventories, lied about their output or slugged each other and should be fired outright.

So flourishing a business is it now that there are polygraph institutes and lie detecting consultants moving right into the labor relations field.

An increasing number of union leaders, I learned in Chicago, are asking for lie detector tests to prove the innocence of their people and thus avoid their discharge.

IN CHICAGO—in fact over a 10,000 mile circuit—I found that there was only one union which was bitterly battling the use of the lie detectors in any case. Guess who? Right. The Teamsters.

In that city it is the huge Local 705, biggest Teamster outfit in the land. It's the Truck Drivers, Oil Drivers, Filling Station and Platform Workers Local, one of Jimmy Hoffa's power units. They've actually hit the streets with leaflets telling their people not to take any such test if accused of anything by a company.

This is not the policy of other unions. The president of the lie detector organization, Leonard Harrelson, tells me that scores of Chicago's unions cooperate with him.

For example, he pointed to one case where the union found that two of its business agents were battling. The windshield of one official's car was smashed. His tires were slashed. He accused the other of the damage.

The lie detector people were called in. Tests proved that the other business agent was innocent.

Persistent Rumor

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—In all the hullabaloo of late during stock market rallies and bond price advances there has been a persistent rumor: The nation's money managers have started to, or are about to, reverse their tight money policy.

The stock market has reacted also to rumors the Federal Reserve Board might lower the stock margin from the present rule of 90 per cent cash.

On a loftier plane than the rumor market is another debate as to what really makes money tight: An official policy or the people themselves—how much they want to borrow, how much they save. In other words, whether it's artificial manipulation, or the law of supply and demand.

You can inflate credit for a time. But in the long run, unless you start up the printing presses, the money for real investment is supplied out of the nation's total of savings.

Federal Reserve spokesmen say of the rumor that the system is changing its policy on credit and money: "It just isn't so." But, as always, they don't discuss future policies.

Since the first of the year the board has been following a policy of wait and see. What it is waiting to see is if some slackening of late in the business pace in certain fields is really a sign of a general slowdown coming.

If that should develop—and few see any sure signs of it now—the Fed is expected to take steps to furnish the commercial banks with more money to lend. This could or could not lead to lower interest rates, depending on the volume of demand.

If a general drop in business activity doesn't develop after spring chases away winter's handicaps, the Fed may rock along about as now. It would see that the banks have enough credit to extend to corporations borrowing to meet March 15 tax dates, to carry on their normal seasonal business, to expand at a pace the money managers consider safe for the general economic health.

The Fed can ease credit tightness in the banks either by stepping into the market for U.S. securities so as to swell bank deposits, or by changing the banks' reserve requirements so that they can lend more of the money they

Weapons, Know-How and Authority

The mobile task force armed with nuclear weapons and trained in their use that Gen. Lauris Norstad says he will organize for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization could be the forerunner of an international police force.

Its possession and knowledge of nuclear weapons would give it the distinction of a special organization trained for special purposes. That has been the historic distinction of a police force, compared with a similar number of men not similarly organized and equipped.

Policemen had nightsticks, know-how and authority. The others had no special equipment, no special training and no standing. This is the way modern civilization can maintain good order with a handful of police taking responsibility for hordes. Trouble makers cannot match the special power of the trouble handlers.

Nuclear weapons and know-how in the hands of a special NATO force will give it power unmatched by any similar number of men not so equipped and trained. Though the Norstad plan calls for them to be drawn from the United States, Britain and France and to retain their identity in the three national forces, they would be in effect a supranational force as far as comparative power in the nuclear area is concerned.

They may be opposed for this very reason. The resemblance to a police force may be too close for comfort; even the military arm of NATO has been looked at with suspicion.

But NATO was created under the United Nations, whose weakness has been lack of power to enforce its decisions and to avert some of the incidents that made decisions necessary. It is not so much what policemen do when trouble occurs that makes them valuable as it is the foreknowledge that they exist. The trouble they keep from happening looms larger than the trouble they handle when it happens.

Gen. Norstad has outlined the kind of force that someday might keep nine of 10 trouble-makers cool off. NATO may be setting the pace for the United Nations.

How Do You Work For Peace?

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan says he will not run for a seventh term as governor, because he thinks the "great overriding imperative of today is peace"—and he wants to work in this worthy cause.

Taking the governor at his word and putting aside the suspicion he may be clearing the decks for action in the Democratic national convention this summer, we wish he could pin down what the rest of us who agree with him about peace being the "overriding imperative" could do in its cause. He presumably has something tangible in view.

The rest of us, we confess, lack his strong sense of direction. We are told over and over that we must be for peace and work for peace. We are urged to dedicate ourselves to peace, to sacrifice for it, to pursue it tirelessly and to keep it foremost in our thoughts.

But if it fell to our lot to announce a terminal date for what we are doing now and to go to work for the cause of peace, we would have no more idea than a rabbit where to start.

Most of us who share this plight never have broken the peace in our lives. We have tried to keep the faith whenever it was laid down for us to keep. We've had our troubles, of course, as when governments switch alliances and order us to feel peaceful about some nation we previously had been told not to feel peaceful about.

And those inclined to go the whole way and feel peaceful about everybody court the danger of being jailed if they reach that high plateau of principle where they do not want to fight anybody. The atmosphere of the plateau is thin and the companionship sparse, though existing under distinguished auspices.

But here is a highly intelligent, politically astute and broadly knowledgeable public figure who says he will devote the rest of his days to the cause of peace. Obviously, he has insight that not everybody has. At the age of 49, Gov. Williams, like Harold Stassen, who will be 53 next April 13, no longer is a youth leader with his future ahead of him, but he has plenty of time to make a career of peace.

We are deeply interested in this. If Gov. Williams carries it through and is not just making himself available for a vice presidential nomination, he can convince some of his doubting countrymen that peace is not something people talk about, like inflation, and do nothing about because they don't know where to start.

Perhaps, like inflation, the trouble with peace is that it's something prescribed for the other fellow, who needs it because his good faith is questionable, whereas the good faith of the prescriptionist always is above reproach.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Have you a college degree and are you now qualified to cheat for a living? may be logical question of an employer as the result of the revelation of a "fix" in exams at a teachers' college, among others.

It seems there are agencies which send substitutes to the classroom to submit papers for regular students. The eyebrow-raising feature of the exposure is the fact some professors don't know their own students well enough to detect a total stranger.

Maybe some classes should be opened with "Getting to Know You" by the teaching staff. The pursuit of degrees has become feverish, with some students evidently determined to get one if it takes their last bit of hanky-panky. Newspaperman who subbed for regular students says there is a ring of "degree agencies" which "can get 'em for you whole-sale."

There has always been some cheating by students in exams but it's a surprise to hear that a teacher who can say: "Junior, I'm amazed at your dishonesty in this test," may have landed on the faculty through crooked work.

Don't tell us the Little Red Schoolhouse of 1960 needs "private eyes," that high school requires a Sherlock Holmes on all floors and that there is always a chance a college professor missed the Rogues Gallery by sheer luck.

Fancy a kid looking at teacher and asking himself, "I wonder if he is as big a cheat as I am." Or teacher observing student and thinking, "I hope my phoniness isn't showing."

How about tightening of requirements so that there will be less chance of a suspicious teacher asking: "hat's going on in this class?" and getting the fast reply: "I dunno; I'm a STRANGER HERE MYSELF."

THE DRIVE TO POPULARIZE the derby hat has been unsuccessful. Can you remember away back when the "iron hat" was always winter style, when it had special values in taking collections? Incidentally what does a magician look for these days when he asks for help in doing an egg trick.

Airwave blue-penciling continues to baffle the public. In a season when a ruckus is raised over one off-color joke, TV fans are expected to welcome a witless sketch that could have been written by any champion of the Fifth Amendment takers. U.S. senators, Kennedy family and war on Commies were the target in recent interlude that Khrushchev would have cheered.

Science Teachers To Tour Plants In Mahoning Area

Six companies in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys area will play host Wednesday to more than 100 science teachers from 61 schools. The teachers are participating in a half-day industrial visitation called "School - Industry Seminars on Science in Industry."

The seminars are coordinated by the Community Resources Development Committee of the Industrial Information Institute.

Committee Chairman Paul E. Smith, superintendent of Salem City Schools, says the visits are designed to give teachers a better understanding of science in industry and the scientific background necessary for some industrial jobs.

Teachers will visit a selected group of jobs that are representative of many related to science. They will discuss the scientific concepts involved in the job, the educational background required, and will look for practical applications, problems, or experiments that can be taken back to the classroom.

Companies being visited tomorrow are the Commercial Shearing & Stamping Co. and Republic Rubber Division and Lee Rubber & Tire Corp. in Youngstown; Copperweld Steel Co. and Brainerd Steel Division and Sharon Steel Corp. in Warren; Babcock & Wilcox Co. Research Center in Alliance; and Sharon Steel Corp. in Sharon.

at the rate of one dollar an hour. Robert Stouffer, professor emeritus of Mt. Union College, to instruct the advanced English program at a cost of $15 a night plus transportation expenses.

The board authorized Deane Phillips, child accountant officer, to attend a School Attendance Officers meeting in Columbus March 24-25, and that Leroy Hoskins, guidance counselor, attend the Northcentral Association meeting in Chicago March 29-31.

Kindergarten Registration

Kindergarten enrollment is set for the week of April 4, and the immunization policy of the board was reviewed; No new pupil shall be admitted to Salem City Schools unless written evidence is provided that the child has been immunized against smallpox, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough, or that the first inoculations are established, or that it is temporarily advisable by a physician to postpone immunization, or that the parents have a conscientious or religious objection to immunization.

Also approved by the board at Supt. Smith's recommendation was a leave of absence policy for teachers. A leave of absence will be granted for one year only. An extension of one year may be granted for professional study only. Return to the same position or even to the school system is contingent upon vacancies existing at that time, and if a teacher declines a position offered, he or she terminates his affiliation.

Study Teachers Salaries

Miss Ada Hanna, Mrs. Mary Doyle and Robert Miller, representatives of the Teachers Association salary committee, were present. They were presented printed proposals for salary policy and were asked to meet in special session with the board March 30 for further discussion of the policy.

A letter from John Herman of the Salem Junior Baseball League, stated that after meeting with the Salem Senior High School Athletic Board, the league decided to withdraw its petition to have baseball included in the school athletic program. The league will continue in its present capacity.

Also read was a letter from Larry Whinnery, a Salem High School senior, who suggested that the high school gymnasium and its equipment be made available to students in the evenings for physical education participation.

The board resolved to approve an immediate consideration of the extension of elementary physical education program as well as the extension of intra-mural program for both boys and girls at the secondary level.

To Purchase Duplicator

The purchase of an offset duplicator costing $1,900.20 was authorized by the board. Holland Cameron, co-ordinator of the Trade Extension, agreed to pay $950 of the cost from the Keener Fund. The machine will be used in both High School and Trades business machine classes and will be useful in providing all types of printed forms, programs and pamphlets needed in the school program. Mr. Fadely explained, adding that the purchase would probably cut the system's printing bill nearly $1,000 a year.

It was reported that curriculum meetings with teachers are still in progress.

Supt. Smith, in revealing tentative plans for next year, stated teacher needs include: High school speech; special education; high school art teacher (to assist in elementary also) and elementary physical education teacher, who could assist in coaching.

Deaths, Funerals

Arthur A. Fifer

Arthur Abram Fifer, 65, of 2009 Fernald Ave., Edgewater, Fla., formerly of Salem, died Monday in Florida.

Born June 30, 1894 in Ravenna, he moved from Salem to Edgewater 11 years.

He was a retired toll line maintenance foreman, having been employed 30 years by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

He was a member of the BPOE of Salem and the Telephone Pioneers of America.

Survivors include his wife, Mila Fay Fifer; a daughter, Mrs. Leo Calvin of Poughkeepsie, N.Y.; a brother, Henry B. Fifer of Ravens three sisters, Mrs. Clara Montgony of Garrettsville, Mrs. Jamer Sandgren of Southbridge, Mass., Mrs. Henry Carroll of Rootstown; and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at Dudley Funeral Home Chapel, with burial in Edgewater Cemetery.

Mrs. Fred Roof

Mrs. Stella Pearl Roof, 83, of 156 Washington Ave. died at the Central Clinic at 5:55 a.m. today.

Born July 29, 1876, in Cleveland, she was a daughter of John and Elizabeth Hayden Flick. She had lived in Salem 25 years.

Her husband, Fred, preceded her in death in June of 1955.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Edith Remalia of Girard, Mrs. Myrtle Cophan of McDonald and Mrs. Mable Probert of Salem; three sons, Ross of North Jackson, Earl of Alliance, Oscar of Salem; 16 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Service will be Friday at 2 p.m. at the Stark Memorial with the Rev. Harold Winn, pastor of the First Friends Church, officiating. Burial will be in North Jackson Cemetery.

Friends may call Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Memorial.

Mistrial Requested In Powell Tax Case

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal court jury hearing the income tax evasion case of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-NY) is excused today while the defense argues for a mistrial.

Judge Frederick vanPelt Bryan Monday told the jury it need not report back until Wednesday. Powell's attorney, Edward Bennett Williams of Washington, made the mistrial motion on grounds that the prosecution was trying to show fraud beyond that alleged in the indictment.

Williams protested testimony by Pearl Swangob about an account she kept of expenses while traveling with Powell's wife, pianist Hazel Scott, in Europe, Canada and this country. He said Miss Scott's expenses were not at issue and the defense was not prepared to meet this line of attack.

Powell, a Negro and a clergyman as well as a congressman, is charged with evading $3,060 in income taxes on his wife's return in 1951 and their joint return in 1952. Miss Scott is not a defendant.

125 Plan to Attend Alcoholism Conference

Approximately 125 persons have made reservations for the conference on alcoholism to be held at the Lisbon Methodist Church Wednesday beginning with a noon luncheon, according to Miss Lillian Schroeder, director of the Columbiana County Public Health League.

D. Bruce Falkey, director of Cleveland center on alcoholism, is the guest speaker.

A panel discussion on "Alcohol: A Community Problem," will also be a highlight.

The affair is co-sponsored by the Columbiana County Public Health League and Columbiana County Mental Health Association.

SENTENCE IS COMMUTED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The first-degree murder sentence of Gosby Scott, 59, of Cleveland was commuted to second-degree by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle Monday. Scott, who has spent 26 years in prison for the 1933 slaying of Willie (Nickie) Smith, 26, now is eligible for parole.

PAY-AS-YOU-SEE — All eyes are on Toronto, Canada, these days to see how a recently begun experiment in pay television works out. Sponsored by a movie firm, "Telemeter" provides three channels for its 2,000 subscribers. Two carry public service movies and news at no cost. The third shows movies currently playing at theaters — with no commercials or interruptions. Cost varies from 50 cents to $2, depending upon the event. national disarmament organization, linked to the United Nations, to begin studies of all phases of disarmament. All nations would tell the organization what they were spending for military purposes. The United States and the Soviet Union would cut their armed forces to 2½ million men each. The armed forces of other nations would also be reduced.

Arms Would Be Stored

All nations also would place agreed quantities of conventional armaments into storage depots in their own territories. Studies would be made of ways to police a cutoff in the manufacture of nuclear materials for military purposes and of transforming nuclear military stockpiles to peaceful uses.

In the second stage another disarmament conference would be called to include Red China and all other nations with powerful military forces.

This phase would ban use of space vehicles for mass destruction after installation of an effective control system. Nations would have to notify the international organization when they planned to launch missiles for peaceful purposes.

Production of fissionable materials would halt, and "agreed quantities of production (would be) transferred under international supervision and control to non-weapon uses, including stockpiling."

Armed forces levels would again be reduced, with the ceiling for the United States and the Soviet Union lowered to 2,100,000 men and corresponding reductions in other countries.

The final stage would reduce all armed forces to levels so small none could "effectively oppose enforcement of international law." Only armed forces sufficient for internal security would remain.

This would be accompanied by a ban on all weapons of mass destruction, including nuclear, chemical and biological. Existing stockpiles would be reduced or transformed for peaceful purposes with the eventual aim of "the final elimination of these weapons." The international organization would control even national military budgets.

Parole Is Granted To Wellsville Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbiana County man, Dale G. Morrell, 28, of Wellsville, will be paroled from the Mansfield Reformatory on May 11, after serving slightly more than a year on a manslaughter conviction stemming from a traffic death.

Morrell was received April 28, 1959, for the death of John W. Webber, 21, a passenger in his car when it hit a railroad warning device in Wellsville on Oct. 25, 1958.

Authorities said Morrell told them he was attempting to pass another car when his car went out of control.

The Pardon and Parole Commission granted 16 paroles, most effective in mid-April, continued 106 cases, and revoked 17 paroles.

Columbia Gas Firm To Use Compact Cars

The Columbia Gas System plans to acquire 800 U.S. compact cars and thereby save $340,000 in fleet acquisition and operating costs in the next four years.

George S. Young, president, announced in New York today that Columbia Gas would begin moving U.S. made compact cars into the System's motor vehicle fleets immediately. The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. here is a part of the Columbia Gas System.

13 Cars Pile Up In Fog On Route 46

Thirteen cars piled up on Rt. 46, a mile north of Canfield, in early morning fog today. No serious injuries were reported.

The Canfield State Patrol said the 13 cars piled up in three separate chain reaction accidents. The first accident which took place at 7:40 a.m. involved five cars. Moments later four cars became tangled in a short distance north of the first accident and four more became involved just south of the original pile-up.

Carl Bashline, 33, of RD 2, Metz Rd., Columbiana, received lacerations of the head in one of the accidents. He told the Patrol that he would go to a physician for treatment.

Most of the other drivers involved were from Canfield and Niles, the State Patrol said. Several of the cars were badly damaged.

The Patrol said fog was so thick in that area this morning that it was almost impossible to see the road.

2 Ohioans Indicted On Conspiracy Count

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Ohioans are among six men indicted by a federal grand jury Monday on charges of conspiring to manipulate the market in the common stock of Bellanca Corp. and to sell unregistered shares of Bellanca.

The firm has been delisted on the American Stock Exchange. The Ohioans are Sidney L. Albert of Akron, former president of Bellanca and its largest stockholder, and Shiah Arsham, of Cleveland, a former Bellanca director.

Albert was named in 44 counts of the 45-count indictment, including five counts charging him with perjury himself before the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Stephen E. Kaufman said those charged had conspired to "paint the tape" — bid up the price on a stock to create a false impression of activity and attract new buyers.

Kaufman said Albert was the principal Bellanca stockholder in 1955 when its securities reached a high of $30.50 a share. The stock now sells over the counter for 25 cents a share, Kaufman added.

If convicted of the conspiracy charges, each defendant could receive a maximum of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine, and if found guilty of manipulation, up to a $10,000 fine and two years in prison.

Albert, if found guilty of perjury, could receive up to five years and a $2,000 fine on each of the five counts.

Gas Line Freeze-Up Affects New Waterford

NEW WATERFORD — About 200 residences using natural gas for heating were cold here early this morning after a freeze-up occurred in one of the main lines serving the community.

Deimer Smith of Salem, district manager for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., said gas was off from 3 to 8 a.m. before service was restored.

CAR, TRUCK COLLIDE

Two out-of-town drivers were involved in a minor truck-car accident at 4:12 p.m. Monday on W. State St. at Pine Ave. and the Benton Rd.

A car operated by George O. Lawrence, 17, of Kent entered the intersection from Pine Ave. and struck a truck driven by Homer Naylor, 34, of Washington, Pa. Both vehicles had the right of way, police said.

Salem Saxon Chorus To Rehearse Tonight

Salem Saxon Chorus will meet tonight at the Saxon Club for its weekly rehearsal. Newly-elected officers will preside.

The officers are: President, William Schuller Jr.; vice president, Chester Mellinger; treasurer, Miss Dorothy Spack; and secretary, Miss Peggy Carpenter.

The chorus is now rehearsing for a guest appearance at the New Castle Saxon Chorus Spring Concert April 23.

All Saxon Club members and friends are invited to join the Salem Saxon Chorus. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Saxon Club on Railroad St. under the direction of Karl Meinhardt, band director of Leetonia High School.

United School Pupils To Be Immunized

Second round immunizations will begin at United Local School next Tuesday and pre-school physicals will be given there Wednesday, March 23, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

Second round polio shots will be administered at Knox Local School Friday, March 25.

One hundred and one immunizations and 38 vaccinations were given Monday at Columbiana schools.

Dr. Palmer was assisted by Mrs. Violet Patterson, County Health Nurse, and Mrs. Ruth Gloss, Columbiana school nurse.

TWO WAYS TO SAVE ON CAR INSURANCE!

take your choice:

PLAN B

PLAN A

—first choice of over 2 million drivers. Offers you savings that can run as high as 30% over what you're now paying. Here's the most up-to-date coverage anywhere—backed by on-the-spot claims service. (Over half of Nationwide auto claims are paid within 24 hours after proof of loss.) Low rates, quality coverage, blue-ribbon service—a solid value for car owners!

—our "merit-rating" plan, gives you the opportunity to set your own rates. Makes it possible for you to save even more than 30% by maintaining an accident-free record, as defined in the plan. Accidents, on the other hand, result in rate increases. If you're the kind of driver who rarely gets involved in accidents, be sure to ask for SAFE-T-RATE, pioneered by Nationwide.

Karen Prasco, Richard Koffel Are Married At Lisbon Church

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Koffel are on their way to their new home at Jacksonville, N.C., where Cpl. Koffel is stationed with the Marine Corps, following their marriage Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in Trinity United Presbyterian Church at Lisbon.

The bride is Miss Karen C. Prasco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Prasco of E. Washington St. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Koffel of W. Washington St., Lisbon.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. O. Armstrong. Mrs. Loren Early presented the traditional nuptial organ music. Mrs. Mable Peterson, aunt of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Observing the familiar traditions, the bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a white lace gown with fitted bodice, elbow length sleeves and Queen Anne collar and bouffant skirt. Her theatre length veil was held in place with a small cap with bow at the back of white organdy. Pearls were her only jewelry. She carried a white Bible and a cascade bouquet of white carnation centered with a white lily.

Mrs. Carol Koffel, sister-in-law of the groom, was matron of honor and wore a light blue chiffon dress with navy blue elbow gloves, hat and shoes and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow jonquils.

Glen Koffel was his brother's best man and ushers were Ralph Lee of California, Roger McGaffic and Roger Hull of Lisbon, friends of the groom stationed at New River Marine Base, N.C. The mother of the bride wore a dark blue dress, white gloves and a light blue spring flower hat. The bridegroom's mother chose a dark blue dress, hat and white gloves. Red rose corsages completed their attire.

A reception for 80 followed at the home of the bride. The bride's table was centered with a three tier cake decorated with pale green leaves and was laid with a pale green satin damask cloth, crystal punch bowl and milk glass.

Those who served were Mrs. Patricia Thomas of Youngstown, Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Raymond Dixon of Lisbon. Judy Prasco, sister of the bride, registered the guests who were from Salem, Hancock, Youngstown, Jacksonville, N.C., and Lisbon.

A rehearsal was held Saturday evening at the church and a buffet lunch for the wedding party followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Koffel, parents of the bridegroom.

The bride has been feted with numerous parties.

The bride and groom are graduates of David Anderson High School, class of 1958. The bride has been a clerk at Morgan's drug store and the groom has been in the Marines since his graduation.

For going away the bride wore a brown tweed suit with brown accessories and a corsage of red roses.

West Wins Pass Fight With Reds

BERLIN (AP) — A stubborn West Monday night won its battle with the Soviet Union over new travel passes for Western military missions in East Germany. Word of the passes implied recognition of the Soviet puppet regime.

The Soviet discarded the passes after month-long Western refusal to accept them and retaliation against Soviet missions in West Germany.

The Western Allies contended use of the passes would imply recognition of the East German regime, which they contend is an illegal, unrepresentative government.

The Soviets' surprising about-face came at a meeting of the heads of the Western missions with the Soviet chief of staff in East Germany, Lt. Gen. G. V. Voronov.

The official East German news agency ADN said Voronov told the Western representatives: "guided by the desire not to worsen relations among the great powers, especially in view of the forthcoming summit conference, the Soviet government has authorized the supreme commander to make no changes until further notice in the passes issued previously."

Police Report For February Is Filed

Salem police investigated 32 auto accidents during February.

The monthly report of Chief Martin Lutsch shows that 22 of these were two-car accidents, five auto fixed object, one auto-pedestrian, and four hit-skip.

There were 674 arrests recorded during the month. They included: one assault, three intoxications, one disorderly conduct, two driving while intoxicated, 12 reckless operation, one no operator's license, one permitting an unlicensed driver to drive, four other offenses, and the remainder parking violations.

In his report to the FBI, Chief Lutsch listed four breaking and entering, five petit larcenies and two grand larcenies.

Policemen also answered 1,230 telephone calls, of which 548 needed immediate attention, made 891 radio transmissions, picked up nine dead animals and investigated one dog bite.

Two Area Men Plead Innocent to Burglary

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Two men pleaded innocent to a burglary charge in County Court Monday night and bond for each was set at $2,500 pending a hearing March 19.

The defendants, Paul Mowery, 31, of Niles, and Edward W. Vesey, 21, of McDonald, were accused of breaking into the Jackson-Milton branch of the Mahoning National Bank and attempting to steal a safe last Thursday.

LISBON MAN CITED

LISBON — Radio man Frank A. Chamberlain, 19, was one of five radio men aboard the U.S.S. Abbot LD629, who were cited after their group picked up signals of a plane that went down in the Caribbean Sea, 165 miles away from their ship, leading to the rescue of the plane's occupants. Chamberlain is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chamberlain, 201 E. High St.

PLANS SEWAGE PLANT

BARBERTON, Ohio (AP) — Utilities Superintendent Charles Pettit outlined for City Council plans for a new $1,888,987 sewage treatment plant. Council is expected to approve the plans next week. The plant, requiring about 18 months to build, will have double the capacity of the present plant, built in 1938.

WILL ENDORSE MORE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The District of Columbia Democratic Central Committee has voted to endorse Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) for president.

Morse won the committee's endorsement Monday night in a 14-3 vote.

The endorsement had been expected. A. L. Wheeler, chairman of the central committee, also is head of the District Morse-for-President Club.

Hollywood Police Break Up Nude Revelers' Party

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Lola DeWitt says it was just a "compatible group having a sociable gathering" the night police raided a Hollywood party and arrested her, TV actor William Talman, and six others.

Officers said the merry-makers had no clothes on.

Miss DeWitt, 31, pleaded innocent Monday to a morals charge. Talman—the district attorney on the Perry Mason TV series—will enter his plea Thursday, along with the other defendants.

All are charged with lewd vagrancy. In addition, the party's host, Richard Riebold, 31, faces a narcotics charge. Detectives said all were frolicking naked when the raid occurred. They said marijuana cigarettes were found in Riebold's apartment.

Newsman asked Miss DeWitt if as charged, everyone was stripped. Replied Miss DeWitt:

"We were comfortable."

She added:

"We were a compatible group, very friendly, having a sociable gathering. In our business people have to relax, you know."

Talman, 45, has played the hard-luck district attorney in the Mason series for three years.

Gail Patrick Jackson, executive producer of the series, said she couldn't say what will happen to Talman's job until after she talks to him—and his case is decided in court.

"After all," she said, "in our society a person is presumed innocent until proven guilty."

John W. Loucks, deputy district attorney, said all eight originally were booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana. But he said no attempt was made to prosecute them on that charge because evidence indicated the marijuana was all property of the host.

"There was nothing to indicate that any marijuana had been smoked," said Loucks. "The cigarettes were placed around the room the way a host places regular cigarettes out for his guests."

He said the guests had no marijuana in their clothes. "But, of course," said Loucks, "none of the guests had their clothes on when they were arrested."

Traffic Suit Heard In Court Second Time

LISBON — Testimony continued today in common pleas court in a $30,000 personal injury suit stemming from an auto-truck accident, June 25, 1956 on Route 30, south of Lisbon at the former Buckeye coal tipple.

Kenneth Wilson of Warren is seeking this amount in a second trial after he was awarded damages in a former trial but the Buckeye Mining Co. appealed the case and it was returned to common pleas court on a technicality of law.

Wilson claims he was injured when a truck owned by the mining company and driven by Jack S. Watson, 26, of Lisbon RD 3, made a left turn as Wilson was passing him at Applegate road. The trial began Monday before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Council Considers Parking Change

LISBON — Village Council Monday night agreed to pay the state $150 as its cost of resurfacing about a quarter mile of Lincoln Ave. from the corporation limits on Rt. 164 to W. Washington St. The state estimated the total cost at $1,960.

Harry Sockdale, county sanitarian, reported on state regulations concerning dumps. Council is considering closing the dump within the village limits. Sockdale recommended a land-fill type dump for cheapest and best operation.

Mayor Dean Stockman reported that village and Center Township were in the process of setting up some type of dump for this locality outside the village. He also reported that Council does not wish at this time to conclude a five-year contract with the B & W Co. for exclusive garbage and disposal collections in the village.

Assistant Fire Chief W. A. Peters requested purchase of two fog nozzles and an ejector fan for the volunteer fire department. Representatives of two companies were present and quoted prices. Mayor Stockman told the fire committee to consider the offers and make a recommendation at the next meeting. Prices range from $122.32 to $144 for nozzles and $134.75 to $184.50 for the ejector fan.

Council also considered the advisability of requiring payment for parking in the business district on Friday nights instead of Saturday nights. Councilmen noted that most of the stores stay open on Friday nights and close early Saturdays. No definite action was taken.

Council gave second reading to an ordinance naming the alley at the rear of county jail Buckeye Drive.

Councilmen discussed village street repairs, and Mayor Stockman suggested that the street committee contact Edward Harsh, state highway department, and John Neill Jr., county highway superintendent, for their recommendations on patching streets.

Council instructed the Thomson Electric Co. to change all village stop lights from 32 cycle to 60 cycle range.

Dr. Julian Jones was named to the Firemen's Dependent Fund Board. Other members are Councilmen Robert Lower and Joseph Dornon and Firemen George Porter and Frank Morlan.

Sam Sowards, a representative of the Central Democratic Club by Congressman Wayne Hayes presented Council a flag for Council chambers. The flag, secured from the Capitol at Washington.

The next meeting will be Monday March 28, at 7:30 p.m.

Scout Leader For Cherokee Area Named

LISBON — Robert W. Gray of Chester, W. Va., formerly of Cameron, W. Va., has been appointed of Columbiana Council, Boy Scouts executive of the Cherokee District of America. It was announced today by Benet D. Taylor, scout executive of county headquarters here.

Gray will assume the territory of Kenneth Mudridge who took the Shawnee district when Leonard McDaniel went to Ashtabula.

Mr. Gray is a graduate of Cameron High School, the 183th Schiff training school and the National camping school and has been a district executive at Mt. Vernon for 11 months. He has been active in Boy Scout work since 1948 as troop leader.

He is a World War II veteran, having spent three years in the Air Force. He was a Sunday School superintendent in Cameron, is married and has two children aged 9 and 18.

MAN KILLED BY TRUCK

WADSWORTH, Ohio (AP) — A tractor-trailer struck and killed Laszlo Berczy, 33, of Barberton Monday night as he was changing a flat tire on U.S. 224 west of here. His wife, Mary, who was standing beside him at the edge of the four-lane highway, was injured seriously.

Cabas Fourth In Balloting For Ohio AA Coach Of Year

Dayton Mentor Receives Honor

Timken's Ken Kate In Second Place

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John Woolums of Dayton Roosevelt today was named Ohio's Class AA high school basketball coach of the year in the Associated Press poll of sports writers, officials and college coaches.

The tutor of the top-ranked, unbeaten Teddies has been coaching for 18 of his 38 years, compiling a 257-89 record.

In 13 years at the Roosevelt helm his 198-72 record has brought him two district and six city championships—the last four in a row. His current squad has won 23 straight and has been top-ranked all year in the Associated Press poll.

In the state-wide voting, with hundreds participating, Woolums was a standout winner. Ken Kate of unbeaten Canton Timken was second, and Bill Ross of Marietta third.

Next in line were John Cabas of Salem, Bill Kaylor of Xenia Central, Bill Satterlee of Akron South, Sam Marchio of Urbana, George Valentine of Ashland, Doyce Filere of Pemberville Eastwood, Joe Howell of Cleveland East Tech, Ed DiGregorio of Youngstown East, Bill Arthur of Archbold, and Russell Moore of Pomeroy.

Woolums, who sends his terrific Teddies against Middletown's seven-time state champions Friday in the Cincinnati regional, coached the New Vienna team while a senior at Wilmington College.

He spent two years at Martinsville and two at Lemon-Monroe before going to Dayton. After graduating from Wilmington in 1943, Woolums received his master's degree in education and school administration from Miami in 1952. In between he sandwiched a World War II stint with the Marine Corps. He's a graduate of Belfast, Ohio, High School.

The ratings were based on regular season games, as are the All-Ohio player selections to be announced next week. The All-Ohio teams, at the request of the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Assn., are made public the week of the state championship tournament.

Others mentioned prominently for the coach of the year award in Class AA were Bobby Carroll of Bridgeport, Dale Reichenbach of Elyria, the 1959 choice; Eugene Degyansky of Lakewood, Andy Kandik of Toledo Scott, Jim Clark of Cincinnati Central, Buckey Walters of Springfield, Harold Andreas of Cuyahoga Falls, and George Heller of Portsmouth.

POWER STUDY — Harmon Killebrew, the young slugger of the Washington Senators, exudes determination as he measures the next pitch in training camp.

Los Angeles' Howard Evokes Praise From Dodgers' Brass

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — There is a new phenom in the Los Angeles Dodger camp, whistling line drives through the pine trees and stirring up excited comment about a "new Babe Ruth."

Frank Howard is the name. He is the former Ohio State basketball star, a sturdy 6-foot-7 athlete who pocketed $108,000 for signing with Los Angeles in the spring of 1958. After two sensational years in the minors and a brief trial run with the Dodgers last year he is getting the long look.

The consensus among the higher brass seems to be that Howard probably needs another year of seasoning. It all depends on the exhibition games. If he still reminds people of the Babe after spring training is over, he could make the big hop this year.

"I think he can do for baseball what Babe Ruth did as far as drawing power is concerned," said Pete Reiser, new Dodger coach who managed Howard at Green Bay in 1958 and at Victoria, Tex. last year.

"He has as much power, if not more, than anybody I ever saw," said Walter Alston, the Dodger manager.

All the superlatives come from the brass. None from Howard, a polite young man of few words. Howard, 23, is so engrossed with his work that it is difficult to pin him down for even a few words.

The brass decided last year to make over Howard from an outfielder to a first baseman.

He hit .333 at Green Bay in 1958, .356 at Victoria the first half of last season and .319 at Spokane in the Pacific Coast League the last half. In two years in the minors, split among Class B, AA and AAA leagues, he has hit 80 homers and driven in 245 runs.

Elliott also has two starting pitchers—Johnny Kucks and Don Larsen—either of whom might wind up with the opening day mound assignment.

Kucks was the pitching star and Lumpe and Siebern the batting heroes Monday as the A's defeated the Milwaukee Braves 7-5 in an exhibition game.

Kucks pitched three scoreless innings and received credit for the victory when Lumpe and Siebern cracked homers in the third inning for a decisive 4-0 lead.

The American League champion Chicago White Sox and the Baltimore Orioles ran their records to 3-0. The Sox defeated St. Louis 8-4 while the Birds kept Cincinnati winless 9-4.

In other spring tests, Washington whipped Los Angeles 7-4. Detroit beat the Yankees 4-2 and Philadelphia took Pittsburgh 4-1.

McMillan Shines As Leadoff Man

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Roy McMillan, the skinny Cincinnati shortstop, has a new talent for hitting.

The Reds tried him as leadoff man Monday in an exhibition against Baltimore's American Leaguers. He lashed out a triple, double and single and scored three runs.

"It's a matter of getting more snap into my wrists," he said. "Wally Moses suggested it and I want to tell you it's the first time I received a workable batting tip."

The Orioles, getting 15 hits off hurlers Ted Wiencek, Jim Brosnan and Mike Cuellar and benefitting from five Red throw errors, won 9-4.

But McMillan's batting spree perked up his teammates. There has been some question as to whether he's physically fit again.

A second base collision with Billy Bruton of Milwaukee last August cracked McMillan's clavicle, ending his playing for the season.

It cast a shadow on the length of his playing days. Mac wasn't the only one worried when it failed to heal properly and an operation was performed.

"The days I had to wait to test it thoroughly were killing," he said. "The club wouldn't even let me swing a bat or exercise the shoulder until Jan. 15."

"Then I swung a bat, felt no pain, hitch or anything unusual. Then I played three rounds of golf. It felt fine."

Spring training is the big test. Mac said "I didn't have any real fears about it when I shagged grounders, threw the ball and even took my turn in the batting cage."

"But it certainly was more encouraging to find that I can do everything I did in the past."

Venezuelan Fighter Breaks Moore's Jaw

CARACAS, Venezuela. (AP)—A little known Venezuelan fighter broke world featherweight champion Davey Moore's jaw and forced the Springfield, Ohio, scrapper to leave the ring in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-round non-title bout Monday night.

Young Carlos Hernandez rocked Moore with a hard right in the third round and sent him down for a six count. Moore clinched and waited for the bell.

It appeared it was the third round blow that fractured Moore's jaw. After the fight, his jaw was placed in a cast.

Moore weighed 127½, Hernandez, 130.

Sports Glances

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

The Salem basketball squad went through the torture yesterday of viewing films of their final tournament game with Warren.

They saw themselves pull some boners, several which they had pulled before and a few which they appeared to think up just for the game. The boys readily admitted that they brought most of their troubles on themselves, but they had difficulty hiding their dissatisfaction over how the game was handled by the officials.

In fairness to the officials, it must be pointed out that films of any basketball game will show numerous fouls which never got called. Referees would need a police escort out of town if they called every foul committed in a game.

However, to be fair with the Salem team, the films indicated that the officiating in the game with Warren left much to be desired. Among other things, the pictures reveal that one Quaker basket was nullified on an out of bounds call which seemed to be in error.

ANOTHER THING WHICH appeared to bother the Quakers came in the final two minutes of the game when the Salem team was working the ball behind the foul circle. One official was audibly counting out the seconds.

Actually, the Quakers should have been in no danger of being penalized for failing to advance the ball. The rule on stalling states that a team should be warned after 30 seconds if they are not "reasonably active" in attempts to advance the ball beyond the mid-court area.

Then the official should give the delaying team five seconds to advance the ball. Failure to advance the ball in five seconds after the 30-second warning, calls for a technical foul.

The Salem players say that they were not given the 30-second warning to advance the ball. When one official started to count off the seconds, the Quakers assumed that he was giving them five seconds to advance the ball or give it up.

In trying to hurry their play, Salem threw the ball away and it cost them a crucial basket.

Still there's no denying that if the Quakers had been playing the type of ball of which they are capable, the officiating wouldn't have looked quite so bad.

COACH JOHN CABAS has confirmed that he is considering a coaching offer from an Ohio college. He expects to make his decision soon—maybe within a week.

Football Coach Earle Bruce is reported to be one of the candidates for the head coaching spot at Warren Harding High School although he did not apply for the position. Coach Bruce said there is nothing to a report that he is headed for a post at the University of Miami at Oxford.

THERE WON'T BE any varsity baseball at Salem High School this spring, but prospects for adding the sport to the athletic program in the near future look good.

Junior Baseball League officials withdrew their petition asking that varsity baseball be added to the high school program. They found more opposition on the school's athletic board than they had expected.

The Board of Education last night approved an immediate consideration of extending the physical education program for both boys and girls in the secondary schools.

This is a step in the right direction. Supt. Paul Smith believes that an intramural program extending down through the grades will make a strong base for the adding of more varsity sports, including baseball, in the future.

LOU SLABY, former Salem High football and basketball star, averaged 13 points a game while playing center for the University of Pittsburgh freshman cage squad this season. The Panthers had a large freshman team and players were shuffled in and out of the lineup quite frequently.

In one game, Lou tossed in 16 points in the first quarter, then sat out the rest of the tilt. The Pittsburgh freshmen won 11 games and lost seven this season.

Spring football practice at Pitt was scheduled to get underway last week but was snowed out. Slaby, a full back, is given an excellent chance of making the Panther varsity next fall. Lou is doing all right academically, too, maintaining better than a B average.

If Lou had been born three weeks later, he probably would have played his basketball this season at Salem High. He was born on Dec. 13 and started to school at the age of five. That three weeks cost the Quakers about 15 rebounds a game this year.

Tribe Training Notes

By CHUCK SUCH

News' Special Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. — Manager Bill Rigney of the San Francisco Giants, whose team played the Cleveland Indians over the weekend, is impressed with Mattie Alou, brother of Felipe Alou, Frisco's star outfielder.

"The youngster is 20 years old and small in stature, but he swings well from the left side of the plate," Rigney said.

Another youngster making a big splash is Andre Rogers, a shortstop at Phoenix last year. Rogers, 6 feet 3, is being tried at first base and third. He has been especially sharp at first. If he can play third as well, he may have himself a position.

Rigney is using Orlando Cepeda in the outfield this year.

Willie McCovey, 6-foot-4 Frisco first sacker, and Walter Bond, 6-foot-6 Cleveland rookie outfielder, look alike. If Bond can hit as well as McCovey, he will be quite a player. He's only 22 years old, so he could develop.

Rigney greeted John Temple, the former Cincinnati second baseman now with the Tribe, with:

"We not going to miss you a bit!"

"Every time I looked up last year, there was Temple hitting a double," Rigney said with a smile.

Rigney said he is looking for more power at the plate. Among players getting a trial with the Giants is George Zuverink, the former New York Yankee hurler.

Zuverink makes his home in Scottsdale, Ariz., and now is the property of the Miami Marlins. The Giants are giving the side-armed a good look.

A total of 196 horses were nominated for the Kentucky Derby in 1958 but only 22 actually ran in the race. It was the Derby's largest starting field.

Bradley, Dayton Meet Tonight

St. Bonaventure, St. John's Tangle

NEW YORK (AP)—Top-seeded Bradley plays tough Dayton and defending champion St. John's takes on even tougher St. Bonaventure tonight in the last quarter-final competition of the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

Bradley (24-2) is a five-point favorite over the Flyers, who easily handled Temple 72-51 in a first-round game. St. Bonaventure (20-3) is given a one-point nod over the Redmen (17-7) after eliminating Holy Cross 94-81 for its 17th consecutive victory in a first-round contest.

Dayton's (21-6) chief worry appears to be Bradley's ever-changing offense and defense.

"We never do the same thing twice," Braves' coach Chuck Orsborn admitted. The Braves, who lost to St. John's, 75-71, in overtime for last year's title, are noted for using two or three types of offense or defense all with variations almost as a matter of course.

Dayton coach Tom Blackburn has high regard for the Braves. "After all, they've beaten the Big O (Oscar Robertson and Cincinnati, 91-90). In our section of the country, if you've beaten the Big O, you've got it," said Blackburn, who has led the Flyers into five NIT finals and never emerged a winner.

St. John's coach Joe Lapchick is worried mostly about his fourth-seeded team's lack of activity the past 12 days and still is haunted by the 95-78 lacing by the Bonnies in December's Holiday Festival.

TAKES SCORING LEAD MONTREAL (AP) — An apparently rejuvenated Bronco Horvath has taken over the scoring leadership from Bobby Hull by one point, National Hockey League statistics showed today.

Boston's Horvath scored four points in three games last week for a season total of 79, while Hull, of Chicago, picked up only one. Both have three games to play.

Horvath has scored 38 goals and assisted on 41 while Hull has 38 goals and 40 assists.

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants is the only active major league player to have hit more than 50 home runs in a single season. He did it in 1955.

Slow-Break League Games Postponed Slow Break League basketball night have been postponed, according to John Dawson, assistant manager of the Memorial Building.

A St. Patrick's Day dance is being held that evening in the Memorial Building Gym.

In a make-up game tonight, Bliss Co. will tangle with Lease Drug at 6:45. Three other playing dates remain in the Slow-Break League. They are March 21, 24 and 31.

The Hardin-Simmons University golf team has not lost a match on its home course in four years.

8th Grade Team Paced By Washington

Wayne "Bink" Washington was the leading scorer and most accurate shooter on Coach Tom Cope's Salem 8th Grade All-Star basketball squad which chalked up 19 victories in 15 games this season.

Washington, who also saw action with the freshman team, collected 178 points for the eighth graders. This was more than twice the total of runner-up Jim Anderson who scooped 82 markers.

From the field, Washington connected on 68 of 158 shots for a 43 per cent accuracy mark. He sank 42 of 62 charity tosses for a good 67.2 percentage.

Anderson was the team's most consistent rebounder. He cleared the boards 150 times. Anderson was responsible for pulling down two out of every five rebounds his team collected.

The 8th grade climaxed its season by winning out over 11 other teams in the Salem Invitational Junior High Tournament.

Final statistics for the 1959-60 season are as follows:

Cincy, Cal to Clash In NCAA Semifinals

Ohio State, NYU To Tangle In Other Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rene Herreras, California's present assistant basketball coach and the head coach-to-be, figures Friday's NCAA semifinal against Cincinnati at just about a standoff.

"We're tougher than we were a year ago," Herreras declared after scouting Cincinnati in the Midwest regionals, "but Cincinnati is definitely stronger."

The little coach, who moves up to the head job when Pete Newell takes over the Cal athletic directorship, said California, defending NCAA champion, won't have the advantage of surprise as they did last year.

The Bears went into the tournament at Louisville unheralded, stopped Oscar Robertson and Cincinnati 64-58, then beat West Virginia 71-70 for the title.

Friday the two teams meet in the Cow Palace after Ohio State meets New York University.

Herreras said Robertson, the nation's leading scorer three years in a row, is still the same Big O, but this year he has a stronger supporting cast.

"The big difference," he said, "is Cincinnati's 69 sophomore center Paul Hogue. I'm told he was somewhat uncoordinated at the start of the season, but he certainly didn't look it last week."

"He takes a lot of pressure off Robertson. When the defense collapses on Oscar, the Big O passes off to Hogue and he dunks one. Hogue gives Cincinnati the good big man they lacked last year."

Herreras added that Cincinnati doesn't make many mistakes, that the club is better than last year's defensively and on rebounding.

He expects his Bears to slow up Robertson & Co. (Cal leads the nation in defense), but he quickly noted that the Ohioans can and have mastered the Bear ball control style.

"They can come through," Herreras said. "Look at their record."

It's 27-1, same as California's. Ohio State and NYU likewise match identical records—23-3.

And in New York, the Violets coach had something to say about his next foe too. Lou Rossini commented that OSU's team is big and tough and will wear an opponent to a frazzle physically. But, said Rossini, the Buckeyes have an Achilles heel—impetuousness.

"They're a young bunch and they don't have much patience," the NYU mentor elaborated. "Our only chance of beating them is that they will get fidgety and reckless and make some damaging mistakes."

Aside from that, Rossini was all praise. He said that the scout he dispatched to Louisville to watch the Bucks against Georgia Tech "thought it the best team he had seen all year."

"They're all big strong boys—6-5 and 6-6—who probably have the best over-all team speed in the country," Rossini went on.

"They're an unselfish team—they look around to each other—but they concentrate on Jerry Lucas, their terrific 6-foot-8 All America. One of their pet plays is to send a high, lobbing pass down to Lucas, who leaps out of a horde of defenders to grab the ball and then stuffs it two-handed into the basket."

"It's not a one-man team. If you concentrate your defense on Lucas, one of the other guys will murder you."

"We won't change our tactics and we have one hope of beating them—that is, we must do everything just right and we must pounce on their mistakes. They are eager, and inclined to get flustered."

The University of Connecticut has won 12 out of the last 13 Yankee Conference basketball championships.

Last Year's Leaders Fade Away In ABC Tournament

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Another big-name bowling team, Budweiser Beer of St. Louis, takes to the alleys tonight in the American Bowling Congress tourney which Monday night saw the defending champions fade away.

The Detroit Pfeiffers, who set an all-time record in winning last year's 56th ABC competition with 3243, tallied 2930 pins Monday night on games of 984, 922 and 1024. That effort, led by Capt. Ed Lubanski's 610, gives the Pfeiffers a temporary hold on seventh place in the open team division.

The St. Louis Budweisers were third last year and fourth the year before.

The Buds have Don Carter, winner of the world's individual match-game championship in Chicago last December; his current partner as national doubles champions, Tom Hennessy; Dick Weber, biggest money winner and Professional Bowlers Assn. "Bowler of the Year" in the 1958-59 season; Ray Bluth, who won the ABC Masters championship last May; and Bill Lillard, first man to win in three ABC championship events when he figured in the 1956 team, doubles and singles titles.

Monday night's best team performance, before a capacity crowd of 2,300, was a 950-997-986-2933 by Wilkof Structural Steel of Canton, Ohio. It was good for fifth place. The Canton team, bowling together 10 years and averaging 986 and 989 in two Canton leagues, was paced by Joe Monastera's 654. Lawrence Fasano, a substitute for team captain Albert Milano, who died March 4, was low man with 553.

Fourth place changed hands in singles and doubles.

Jim Fleischacker and Neil Gruman of St. Paul Minn. had a 342-420-463-1245 for the day's best doubles effort. Rudolph Konar of Hammond, Ind. is new fourth-placer in singles with 675 on games of 234, 217, and 224.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Do you think children should repay parents for education given beyond the high school level?

I'm referring to parents in modest circumstances who have to sacrifice home ownership for themselves in order to send their children to college. I might add, the parents I have in mind have several children and are seeing to it that each one gets a degree. VA.

Dear Charley: Educating children is part of being good parents. This means beyond high school, if the student is serious and eager to get a higher education. When there are several children, each one should work part time and do whatever is possible to lighten the financial load.

Few kids say "thanks for educating me, folks" any more than they would say "thanks for giving me life." But, if they are worth their salt, they appreciate the sacrifices made by parents and say "thank you" later—in other ways.

Children who receive higher education usually wind up on a higher rung of the economic ladder. Parents who have sacrificed for their children in order to educate them should not worry about home ownership—or anything else—in their old age. The kids should look after them as a matter of personal integrity.

Bashful

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 16 who wants to know if I'm being silly or if I have a right to gripe.

My boy friend is 17. We've been going together a year. On my birthday he gave me a pink silk scarf and said: "My mother got this from my aunt but she doesn't like the color." On Christmas he gave me a pair of gloves and said: "These are too small for my sister. If they fit you, they're yours."

Valentine's Day he gave me a box of chewy candy and said: "Nobody at our house likes this stuff. My dad's boss always brings it when he comes to dinner."

I told my mother the next time he brings a second-hand gift I'm going to refuse to take it. She said not to be so materialistic—that it's the thought that counts. What do you say?—GARBAGE PAIL.

Dear Pail: I have a sneaking suspicion the gifts may not be second hand at all. Perhaps your bashful beau doesn't want to admit he thinks enough of you to go out and buy a gift, so he fibs to cover up.

This is par for a 17-year-old but don't tell him I said so.

Same Opinion Still

Dear Ann: I was disappointed in you when you backed up the teacher and told the parents of a 17-year-old boy to let him read anything in the public library. The specific book causing the controversy was the one banned by the postmaster general.

It was shocking that you should condone in print such cheap, salacious pornography. Even if the boy was mature, an excellent student and an avid reader, he still should not be permitted to fill his good mind with trash.—LET DOWN.

Dear Let: My position is unchanged. A 17-year-old, mature, well-balanced, voracious reader who makes excellent grades should be permitted to make his own selection of reading material. I would not recommend such privileges for all 17-year-olds but this boy is exceptional as his teacher testified.

Young kids who would hide behind the cowshed with dirty books are not likely to select a novel by the distinguished author D. H. Lawrence.
